

Scott Anderson

Bio

Founder and CEO of CORE Business Services, Scott Anderson grew up in Rogue River, OR and before founding CORE had stints as both a COO for NIC Industries, Inc., and as a Rogue River High School (RRHS) business teacher and head basketball coach.

CORE was born in 2006 when Anderson, given his business background, realized that small and medium businesses needed help managing all their business technology. CORE began to meet the comprehensive IT demand of this community, aligning technology to business. CORE provides complete support for a monthly fee, monitoring client software and hardware issues on its network behind the scenes. They can often fix client systems before they crash. The monthly fee also makes the IT technology budgetable for a business.

Scott, who holds a BS in Business from Southern Oregon University and an MAT, Secondary Education, Business from Western Oregon University, has been included in the MSPmentor 250 list, honoring the world's top MSP executives, entrepreneurs and experts, for three years running.

2016 marks the 10th anniversary of CORE, which due to Anderson's exceptional leadership and passion, has enjoyed double digit growth year over year and amassed a host of awards, including:

- Inc. 5000, a listing of the fastest growing companies in America, for three years running
- MSPmentor 501, a ranking of the top MSPs in the world, for five years running
- CRN MSP 500: Pioneer 250, a listing of North American companies delivering managed services one innovative step ahead

Scott lives in Rogue River with his wife and two sons.
